

Seasonal Leave of Absence

201.30-3

I. Policy

Employees or candidates for employment who desire continuous active employment for periods of less than a calendar year, may request a Seasonal Leave of Absence Appointment, that includes a prearranged period of inactive employment annually (e.g. summer). In addition, employing departments may structure positions as “Seasonal Leave of Absence Appointments” to accommodate recurring, predictable periods during which reduced staffing is needed.

A seasonal leave appointment is a voluntary commitment by an employee to a specified annual work schedule involving periods without work or compensation. Once granted by the University, an appointment involving a Seasonal Leave of Absence will not be changed without prior agreement of the head of the employing department.

During the annual scheduled inactive period, an employee will be on a “Seasonal Leave of Absence”, without University or Unemployment Compensation.

II. Regulations

A. A Seasonal Leave of Absence Appointment (including one originated by the department), either as an initial appointment, or as a change of appointment, may be granted only at the request of the prospective or current employee.

B. Approval

A Seasonal Leave of Absence Appointment must be prearranged with the employee and approved by the department head of the employing department.

C. Duration of Appointment

A seasonal leave appointment may be established for a period of one or more years. Once established appointment cycles will remain in effect indefinitely, unless the circumstances of the University change so that it is no longer practical to maintain the appointment. Employees who later desire a change in appointment may apply for other positions, as they become available.

D. Compensation

Employees will be paid their regular rate of pay during periods of active employment. During the annual Seasonal Leave of Absence period, no University salary or unemployment compensation will be payable.

E. Duration

Seasonal Leaves of Absence may be established for any period of 3 weeks or more, up to a maximum of 6 months.

F. Full-time/Part-time Combination

Appointments may be designed to provide full-time employment during periods of normal to peak work loads and part-time employment during periods of diminishing work loads. This combination may also be coupled with a seasonal leave of absence.

G. Benefits

1. Employees with Seasonal Leave of Absence Appointments may be appointed on a full-time, part-time or full-time/part-time combination basis during the period of active employment, but only those employee whose appointment is 75% or more during the period of active employment will be eligible for the continuance of University contributions to benefits (life insurance, health insurance, dental, and periodic health physical). Others may continue such benefits in effect by direct payment of entire premiums in advance of the leave.

2. Group Life insurance coverage will be based on the base salary earned for a 12 month period prorated. For example, a person appointed at $20,000/yr. who works 9 months will have life insurance based on a $15,000 salary.
3. Employee otherwise eligible for Long Term Disability will continue their eligibility during the period of inactive employment; however, benefit payments will not commence during inactive employment. The salary used in determining Group Life insurance will be the salary used for the determination of Long Term Disability benefits.
4. Employees' contributions toward health, dental and life insurance coverages for the period of the seasonal leave of absence will be deducted from the employee last paycheck prior to the seasonal leave.
5. University contributions to TIAA-CREF and all Social Security contributions will be discontinued during the period of inactive employment. Employee may send after-tax contributions directly to TIAA-CREF.
6. Employee otherwise eligible for the periodic health physical can receive this benefit during the period of inactive employment.
7. Vacation, PTO and sick pay will accrue, as provided by the appropriate policy, and be provided only during the period of active employment. For employee whose sick pay is not accrued, sick pay will be prorated based on their annual effort. Unused vacation time and sick pay will be maintained during the seasonal leave of absence.

H. Probationary Periods

Seasonal leaves of absence may begin during a probationary period; however, the time spent on the leave of absence will not count toward completion of the probationary period.

I. Other Employment

Employee may work for other employers while on a seasonal leave of absence.

J. Return to Active Employment

Employee returning from a seasonal leave of absence will be assigned to their previously held position, unless the circumstances of the University have changed to the extent that the position no longer exists. Those who are affected by a reduction in force while on seasonal leave of absence will be eligible for all provisions, including minimum notice requirements, of the Reduction in Force Policy (SPG 201.72).
